Delivering the Message

VOLUME 3, ISSUE 2

FEBRUARY 1, 2008

Message from the Commander

Word is getting out on how great an assignment JCU is. I just returned from a recruiting visit overseas. Many of the Soldiers and Sailors I met with the recruiting team were looking for something more than their parent service was providing. A quick brief by Steve Long and most were convinced that JCU was the place for them. With close to 30 new unit members in the current SOROC class, the size of the unit is growing quickly. That pace will continue for the next couple of years. With each added member, time overseas will decrease for all in the unit.

The Troop leadership sitting the candidate boards continues to do an excellent job in selecting the best and brightest for JCU. Although the size of SOROC classes has increased by a magnitude of three or four times over the historical average, the quality of the individuals has remained high. The average length of time in the unit may be falling rapidly, but with the current senior enlisted leadership and the continued quality new hires, JCU will continue to provide the support that has been expected for so long.

For the new families in the unit, you are essential to the success of JCU. I expect you to be around for a while, so please take the time to become acquainted with the other families in the unit. You will also find that the command can provide many resources that you may not have been accustomed to using in previous assignments. On 28 February, new SOROC families will meet the unit leadership and the individuals that provide the outstanding support to JCU. I look forward to seeing you there.

Thank you to the families of JCU and all you do on a daily basis.

Jack Arnold

JCU Activities Club year end roll-up

To give you an idea of how the JCUAC works for you, I will list the expenditures for 2007. I didn't start keeping a good tracking system until later in the year, but have captured most of the items. We gave out 12 baby baskets for those newly arrived members of the unit. A total of 10 flower arrangements were sent to the families of those that had lost a loved one during the year. The JCUAC sponsored one Hooah Appreciation Day lunch and three FRG lunch functions. With the unit growing, we can only expect these numbers to grow this year. Thanks to all who have contributed to the JCUAC and look forward to another great year.

— Todd

ISG Notes

I want to take this opportunity to let you know some of the things I have in the works for JCU members and their families. The new JCU coin design will be finalized soon and get put on order within the next month. There will be new miniature unit colors made, the new colors will be embroidered onto the fabric instead of screen print. Troop guidon's will be finalized and ordered. The Troop guidon will be a standard design for all Troops, just different colors. The designs that the Troops came up with were awesome, but would be in the too hard to do category. I have been keeping a good stock of T-shirts, mugs, hats etc... for the JCU Activities Club. If there are any ideas out there for new merchandise, let me know. I will maintain doing the Hooah Appreciation Day Cook-outs, the next one will be February 20th, cost to you is $2 a plate. I will throw a free one in there every now and then. I, as well as the command appreciate everyones hard work for everything they do. Please don't hesitate to let me know where I might be able to improve any areas.

C-Troop after a Airborne Operation with follow-on training

Hello everyone,

January has been a very busy month for A-Troop and our families; football season has finally come to an end. The G-men defeated the almost perfect New England Patriots in the Super Bowl and "THE" Ohio State Buckeyes lost their 2nd straight National Championship to a dominant SEC team (LSU). The cracked nuts are 0-9 all time in bowl games against SEC teams. We have some new additions in troop; welcome Dave Allen and John Kelly and their families to A-Troop. We have several personnel attending schools and returning home from deployments. Larry Deardorff and Jay Baker returned home from their recent trips while Adam Merlino and Matthew Heist head out the door this month. Roland Marks and his family reenlisted extending their dedication to the Navy. Congratulations to Jesus Castro for completing the Advance

Network Analysis School. Congratulations to Veronica Zamora, Ryan Dayton and Scott Eby for completing the US Army Airborne School. Congratulations to Jeremy Jenkins for completing Common Core BNCOC phase 1. Congratulations to John Kelly for completing the US Army Military Freefall Jumpmaster Course. Randy Amsler is attending the Air Force NCO Academy and Nathan Hannah is presently attending US Army Airborne School.

A-Troop has several recognized service members this month. Congratulations to the following service members: Daniel Lane won the JCU Senior Airman of the 4th Quarter Calendar Year 2007 and William Sumner won the JCU Sailor of the 4th Quarter and the 2007 JCU Sailor of the Year. Matthew Heist won the JCU Senior Airman of the Year 2007 and he was also promoted to Staff Sergeant.

A-Troop has a pair of recognitions in the 2007 Air Force Communications and Information Annual Awards; Congratulations to Angelo Caraballo-Schweitzer for earning the Comms-Electronics Systems Outstanding NCO 2E. Congratulations to Christian Martin earning the Comms-Computer Systems Outstanding SNCO 3C and Lance P. Sijan USAF SNCO Leadership Award.

A-Troop had a great team victory to bring home the DET-BOWL trophy, final score A-Troop 63/ B-Troop 35.

— Chris

A-Troop proved that they are pretty good cheaters at Football once again. However, I am really proud of how B-Troop performed under such blatantly unfair conditions. B-Troop would like to congratulate Justin Zendrosky for his promotion to SSgt. We have more than half the Troop out at schools right now and the guys that are left in garrison are working hard. Call anytime with questions or concerns.

-Mike

DJ Holly claims he is doing an Iron Cross, but I don't see his feet

It has been an exciting and busy month for C-Troop. We'd like to start off by congratulating the following individuals: Chuck To and Dave Lonack both graduated from the Basic Airborne Course earning legitimate jump wings. Micah Modest completed Common Core and then returned to the troop to be promoted to Staff Sergeant (E-6). Derrick White was a first time go at Ft Benning's Jumpmaster school and looks forward to leading his comrades off the ramp. Currently Jim Prasse is attending ANCOG at Ft Gordon, Doug Rosario is attending Basic Airborne in Benning and Mike Adcox is supporting the HALO course in Arizona. This past month saw a lot of change within the Executive Comms section of C Troop. Lenin Castillo replaced Ulysses (OT) Otero as the ACG RTO, Dave Lonack replaced Jim Prasse as the DCG's RTO and Greg Matthews replaced Marlin Waldron as the CG's RTO. The guys picked up right where their predecessor's left and are doing an outstanding job representing the Troop. Marlin has taken over as Exec Comms Det Chief as Vic Kouw departs the Troop to do good things in Current Operations. Vic, we wish you the best of luck in your new assignment and appreciate all the work you have done in the Troop. Earlier this month, the unit's high performance night jump was cancelled. C-Troop drove on and even though the jump did not go, we had the bus drop us off on Sicily DZ and conducted a nighttime tactical movement. Despite the fact that we did not make the jump, the training was a complete success and enhanced team camaraderie. The following duty day, we conducted proficiency fire with our brothers from B Troop working weapons proficiency. January was filled with technical training events as we are pushing to get everyone fully mission capable and I'd like to thank Chuck Brandt, Jacob Carlsson and Mario Curtis in their efforts to spin our guys up. Despite everything going on, we still managed to get our monthly NCOCPD in. Mike Clark gave a little history of the 10th Mountain Division and then reserved the Red Point Climbing gym for PT. Afterwards we capped it off with a hearty breakfast at Golden Corral. Thanks for putting this on. The men down-range continue to do great things and we look forward to their return. The Troop sends a shout out to Jamie Slife who is upholding our reputation as DoD's finest. — Jake

P.S. Jake has been conducting back to back day and night mass attack, full combat equipment with weapon Airborne operations within the unit and other units throughout FT. Bragg. We wish him luck as he departs for Jumpmaster School mid February. — Gary Hello all D Troop Families. I hope everyone is doing well. Whew! We have had such a busy month that I don't even know where to begin. First let me correct some info that was published in the last newsletter. With the large growth in our D Troop family it is easy to understand how some parents confuse their children's names from time to time and apparently Maj H was a little confused. SrA Olshove's first name is not "Osh," it is Vincent. Osh is the nickname he showed up with, but I'm sure he will earn a new one as he gets to spend more time with us. Most of the other nicknames cannot be published in a family newsletter. I'm kidding, they are all terms of endearment.

Moving right along, we welcome to our newest D Troop member Patrick Antonino Larson. He is the newest addition to Mike and Becky Larson's family. Congratulations are in order for sure!

We have so many folks moving around and so many projects going on that if I forget to mention someone, it is not intentional at all. The most likely cause would be the 50 phone calls and questions that I took while typing this up, ha ha. Jerry's and Eric's deployments continue, Daren left to augment Eric, Maj H continues his overseas deployment, Stacey is in the Military Freefall Course, Jeff graduated an Installer's Course then left for Army Airborne School, Roger just returned from an overseas trip, Mike B. is on his way back from an overseas trip, Ameer wrapped up a quick trip to South Carolina, Penny and Todd B. are in Washington state, and Osh and Adam are in Air Force Leadership schools. Holy cow! That's pretty substantial considering that only covers January and those are just the "moving parts." Mike M., Scott, Todd P., Earle, Derek, Glenn, Mike C., Chris, and the entire rest of the D Troop gang held down the fort and kept our heads above water with the incredible opstempo and requirements. I am truly blown away by the expertise and professionalism that everyone puts forth. And there is a direct correlation to the support that comes from you, their family members. Thank you from the bottom of my heart for all that you sacrifice for this unit. You are truly appreciated!

— Carleen

This has been a spectacular month for section recognition within the unit. First let me issue a correction for an erroneous entry in last month's newsletter. I incorrectly identified MSgt Sam Stanley as the Air Force Sr NCO of the year. Sam was actually the 3rd Quarter Air Force Sr NCO of the Quarter. This was an honest mistake, but I guess that it put subliminal messages into all of the voting members. Congratulations to MSgt Sam Stanley for being selected as the Air Force Sr NCO of the year. Yes, this time I am reporting the actual award. Congratulations to SSgt Adrian Williams for winning 4th quarter Marine of the quarter and also for being selected as the Marine of the year. Congratulations to SSgt Scott Bachand for being selected as the 4th Quarter Air Force member of the Quarter. In addition to all of the individual awards this has been a very busy month for TDY's. Adrian Williams started the Marine Career Course at Camp Lejeune at the beginning of January and will be gone until the end of February. Chad Lewis and Sam Stanley are once again pulling rotations and Sergio Hernandez went up for a week long familiarization to get him prepared for a rotation. Mike Martinez spent a few weeks installing some equipment at a remote location and will hopefully be back by the middle of February. Bryan Fooshee and Gama Rodriguez have started their IO course and have successfully completed the first 2 classes. I admit that it is a lot more fun sitting here watching students go through the course than it is to worry and stress as you are attempting to pass the course. Thank goodness Shannon Hook and Rob Barnard have a lot of patience since this course has started with 7 students. Vince

Sola went to Virginia to get some additional information and guidance to prepare for his blocks of instruction for the IO course. I was able to go to Virginia this month for a few days, though I had to take Jason Proskovec along for some adult supervision. I had a great time and gained some valuable experience, though I did need some supervision from both Chad Lewis and Jason Proskovec. They ensured that I didn't get into any trouble. Hopefully the creeping crud that has been going through the office is finally gone, it seems to have hit several of us. Since Jason was the first to get it, we blame him. Thanks for the great job that each of you are doing. I realize that I am not that creative and sometimes things go right over my head, but I do have a question that I just don't get. Princess Leia?

— Tony

January has come in with a roar. Donovan Holden successfully completed Warrant Officer Candidate School and now is awaiting orders for his next assignment. His gaining command will be getting an outstanding Warrant Officer. John Vasquez was named Serviceman of the Year for the Joint Communications Unit, he had won one of the quarterly awards earlier in the year, and through continued excellent performance won this honor. I am lucky to have the people working for me that I do, they make the job much easier. And in family news we are waiting for Mike Fowler and his wife to have their baby, should be any day now, we will pass on the news when we hear something. Although I am afraid we will be passing old news by then, I am sure the support hotlines will be heating up almost as soon as their baby is born. I hope everyone has a great Valentines Day and talk to you at the end of next month

—Bill

SELECTION & TRAINING

SSG Calvin Delaware (SOROC 1-08) is Promoted to SFC by MAJ Worthington on 1 FEB 08

(Right) Pepin and Schaffer felt sorry for Tom Knoll and let him touch the ball, knowing that would be the only time he would get a chance that morning

(Below) Even with the strong arm of ken Vaillancourt, B-Troop could not overcome the power of A-Troop

SOROC class 01- 08 has come aboard and has been moving full speed ahead. 01-08 is projected to have at least 31 students! SOROC is no longer the 10 to 12 people of old and their numbers are a welcomed sight across the board. FYI, we have eight Army, six Air Force, six Navy and the largest number of Marines we have ever had, eight! I know that number does not equal 31, but we also have three guest students. Please welcome them and their families. 01-08 has already given back to the community by going to the VA hospital over this most recent holiday season and visited with the in-house patients. It was a great time visiting with those who have served and paid our respects for their contribution to our Nation. 01-08 is currently in Trigger Time and will finish up on the 10th, with the academic portion of SOROC starting on the 11th. Jason Tolle FINALLY got a unit jump to go and many of our pay hurts and pay losses finally got their feet in the wind. Thanks Jason we owe you, but you need to figure out how to better control the weather!

CPT Giovannetti is in Jump school and had better graduate on 22 Feb. Good luck SIR! Keep your feet and knees together.
We would also like to welcome our newest SOROC instructor, Mr. Paul Shedlock who came aboard on 29 Jan! We are all happy to have you as the most recent addition to the JCU family.

A Message from the FRG Coordinator

Everyone had a very good time at the Spouse's Luncheon which took place on January 11th at the Annex Building on Knox Street. We had around 24 ladies in attendance, along with a handful of toddlers and small children. Several of our new Moms had a great time showing off their adorable babies with everyone. This lunch was not designed to be a meeting or briefing, but rather a social gathering for JCU wives to see old friends, make new ones, or just to relax and enjoy themselves. COL Arnold, CSM Givens, and 1SG Spencer also attended to meet with the wives and chat. We will have another luncheon in a few more months and hope that those who were not able to attend this one will be able to next time.

There have been several changes within the FRG over the past 2-3 months so please check the following list to ensure you know who your Troop Key Caller is. If your section is not listed, your Troop Chief will be responsible for providing you with unit information. Many thanks to Melissa Kouw (C-Troop) and Jane McKlveen (B-Troop) for all their help with the FRG over the past 2 years. Melissa and Jane had to step down due to the many other commitments they are involved with. Thanks also go out to Elisa Gozdziwski who, for the past 2 years, handled the Key Caller duties for both A and D Troop simultaneously. Elisa will now be the G-Troop Key Caller. Replacing Elisa are Kim Leach (A-Troop) and Lisa Dover (D-Troop). Our other Key Callers include Shanna Hargrove (CMD/OPS), Michelle Higginbotham (C-Troop), Patricia Hernandez (E-Troop), and our most recent addition, Renee Hays (B-Troop). Please check the back page of this newsletter for all of our Key Callers phone numbers and e-mail addresses.

If you have any questions or concerns, please contact myself or your Key Caller. We are here for you. If we can't help you or answer your questions, we will direct you to someone who can.

Happy Valentine's Day! Marsha

Family Spotlight

Hello! My name is Michelle Higginbotham and I am the C-Troop Key Caller. I am originally from Portland, Oregon. My husband, Jake, is originally from El Paso, Texas. We met while we were both in the Air Force stationed at Hurlburt Field in Fort Walton Beach, Florida. As of January 7th we will have been married ten years. I got out of the Air Force after eight years but he hit his 12 year mark in November. We have been at JCU since March of 2002. Jake started out in QRT (A-Troop) but he is currently assigned to C-Troop. We live in southwest Fayetteville, not far from the Hoke County line, but we are currently looking for a new place as we have outgrown our existing home. We have two girls, Jordan is nine and Hannah is five. They both attend Lake Rim Elementary school. We have a cat named Lucky and we got a puppy in July that we named Ellie. While here I have completed two associate's degrees at Fayetteville Technical Community College and I am currently working towards a bachelor's degree in computer science with a minor in mathematics at Fayetteville State University. I will be finished in May of this year. Jake is working towards his bachelor's degree in criminal justice at Saint Leo University.

AIRBORNE

Answer to last months RETRO JCU ? (did you guess correctly?)

In 1980, this youngster had a dream of being the next Phil Collins on drums. Unfortunately his crowning moments were playing drums for the University of Miami Band of the Hour and in former President Clinton's Inaugural Parade (Don't hold that against him). This month's RETRO JCU is none other than SFC Jason Tolle. Jason joined the Army in July 1997 and has been in JCU since January 2004 and currently works as the Air NCO. He said that if you made any wise cracks about his drumming skills, everyone will lose jump pay for a quarter. Thanks Jason for sharing a part of your history with us.
