Message from the Command Sergeant Major

Well JCU, despite my attempt to stop time, my last newsletter article has now come. Becky and I have enjoyed being a part of JCU for these many years, and we will miss serving the Soldiers, Sailors, Airmen, Marines and Civilians of the Joint Communications Unit. I would like to say thank you for allowing me to serve you as the 1st Command Sergeant Major (CSM) of JCU. By far, JCU is comprised of the best communicators and people in the world and I can think of no finer organization on the planet. You are the epitome of professionalism and self sacrifice, and I am proud to be considered one of you. Thanks for all you do.

I would like to submit the following short story as a tribute to the heart and soul of JCU.

Greatness

"Ask not what your country can do for you; ask what you can do for your country." -- John F. Kennedy

What a great sentiment; what a great president! When we think of the words, we think of him. When we think of him, we think of the words, the perfect union of a man and his ideal!

Many would say that his eloquence was the result of superb creativity and an ability to transform the very sentiment he felt about himself, his country and his duty into words. Others would say, his eloquence was not in the words at all, but in his heart, thus his greatness stemmed not at all from his creative abilities.

"Ask not what your country can do for you; ask what you can do for your country"...

What if someone else had uttered these words first? Would we have then attributed this quote to that individual instead? Was it really the words, or was it something else? Is greatness about new ideas, about creativity, about innovation, or having thought up a new way to say something noble? Or is greatness something else?

"Ask not what your country can do for you; ask what you can do for your country"...

A powerful and unique sentiment about America and her proud and noble heritage? Too bad Kennedy sort of borrowed it from Kahlil Gibran. Here's what Gibran wrote somewhere around the turn of the century in a short essay entitled, "The new Frontier".

"Are you a politician, asking what your country can do for you, or a zealous one, asking what you can do for your country".

For your introspection, I submit that greatness is about service. It is really about having the heart, the spirit, and the passion to serve mankind. Indeed, the more you serve, the greater you are. The key to greatness is service! Be great! "Ask not!" Serve!

Each of you does more than you are asked every day, thanks from a grateful nation.

Happy 233rd Birthday America 1776 - 2009

As we celebrate the birth of our great nation, let us not forget all the sacrifices that were made in order for us all to be a free people. Keep our military in your thoughts and prayers as they continue those sacrifices today, all over the globe. Thank you!

Greetings to all in A-Troop; men and family members. I am nearing the end of my first month in the hot seat here and it is, of course, always different than one thinks it will be. Chris always made this look easy; it isn't. Thanks Chris and Kim for all you have done for A-Troop. I hope I am able to keep the standard high.

Many of you are probably wondering, "Where did this guy come from?" I have been in JCU for a little under 8 years now. My first 4 years were spent in QRT in a variety of billets. After pulling a few rotations, I came back (smoked!) and got put to pasture in the staff. I worked in Force Mod for the last 3 years where I got to be a part of planning and building much of the new architecture and equipment we are now using. I can't tell you how much I look forward to actually being a part of implementing those things and being a part of the teams again.

We are all home now except Special Agent Epps who continues to do great things forward. Please keep him in your prayers. Rufus Messex has just left for ANCOG and we have many more schools lined up down the road. I hope you have all taken enough time with your families to rest, relax, and get all the honey dos done. Our long-range calendar is starting to firm up and we are going to be busy as we near the end of July. Ladies, please take every opportunity to spend time with your communicator. He will be very busy this fall as we go into our intensive training cycle.

Once everybody is back from leave, we are going to try and set up a burger burn so everybody can get back together and I can meet you all. I hope to have good answers for all the questions about the future at that time. If anything comes up before then, please do not hesitate to corner me at work or call my cell. I look forward to working with you over the next few years making A-Troop the best place to work in JCU.

~ Travis

Above: In a ceremony held on 5 JUL 09, 1SG Chris Leach relinquished responsibility of A-Troop to SMSgt Travis Knutson

We would like to wish all a "warm" hello from abroad. Things have been incredibly busy for all this month which has made the time fly. Our guys and gals have been doing a fantastic job. We have had a lot of projects and important taskers that we met head-on this month. I am extremely impressed with the entire troop on how we have come together since January. We have celebrated numerous birthdays and anniversaries this month. I would like to thank all back home for the support since we deployed. The JCU machine is awesome to watch from afar. We have gotten support from every JCU Troop/Section since we arrived. I would especially like to thank

C-Troop for again supporting our last family VTC on Fathers Day.

~ Bryan

Below: MSG John Mills presents a C-Troop departure gift to MSgt Chris Martin at a lunch held on 24 JUN 09.

June has been a pretty busy month for C-Troop. First off, on 12 June, C-Troop almost doubled in size. I'd like to welcome our 14 new Troop members and their families to the Troop. I hope you guys weren't thinking things would slow down for you. You guys are actually going to get busy now. Get ready for tons of training in order to be ready for deployment this fall.

Along with SOROC graduation, we also had two other people in schools. Dave Miller graduated from the Warrior Leaders Course and Bryan Watkins graduated from Airborne School. (Only 9 more people and we will all be Airborne qualified). The rest of us just stayed here in Fayetteville and got some training. Just like last month we will be staying close to home and getting all of our stuff done locally.

While those folks were off getting training, Ryan Dayton and Joe Quigley got to take a weeklong trip to Maryland to provide some communications for a few days. Of course, they did a great job.

Other than this, it has been quiet on the home front for the troop; except for our first C-Troop vs. D-Troop Broom ball competition. I'd like to congratulate D-Troop on their valiant efforts and their second place finish!! Maybe next time fellas.

Oh yeah, let's not forget our birthday's for the month. Happy Birthday to Jory Mathis!

~ Millsy

D-troop has continued to stay busy by ops checking all it's packages ensuring they will be mission ready when the time comes. Along with many moving parts we would like to welcome back Jack who graduated the SGM academy, Derrick White who graduated ANCOB by making the commandants list, and David Smith finally got to put his knees in the airborne breeze and graduated the basic airborne operation. After accountability the teams walked about 3 miles and conducted crew drills at respective sites with flawless execution. D-Troop LNO's took a trip and received some site familiarity and will be better prepared for future trips. A week ago D-troop found itself heading up to Norfolk to get some good ship training, although the training got canceled due to Navy requirements, we did manage to go course. So minus the above names the rest of D-Troop took the lead on the night time airborne aboard and get some good useful knowledge for future trips. The last few days of the month we partook in some good common skills training and did some land navigation and shook the dust off of our weapons and did some team drills out at the range. The pace will continue to pick up but the Troop will grab the reigns and ride it out to success. Thanks to the families for all their support during this busy time but we couldn't do it without you and we look forward to next month.

~ Kyle

Congratulations to SSgt Adrian Williams on being selected for promotion to Gunnery Sergeant, hopefully it won't be that long before his selection number comes up and the promotion is official. I would like to welcome Scott Hamilton and his wife Emily to E Troop. Scott and Emily have a son, Scott Logan III and are expecting another child in September. They are coming to JCU from 7th Special Forces Group. This means that E Troop should have not one, but two new babies being delivered in September! While this technically happened last month, it was after I submitted last month's input. Congratulations to Sergio, Mike, Adrian and Greg for putting together the command's worst golf team. Hopefully next year you can move up a few places. Dan Orrvick managed to maneuver the golf cart through the entire 18 holes without killing Sam or any other innocent bystander on the course, but just barely. He crashed the golf cart into another cart full speed before he even made it to the first hole. All of us in E Troop wish Scott Bachand a speedy recovery even though that means he will be back in the office sooner. As we celebrate the 4th of July, I want to thank each of you for your service to the country.

Hello G-Troop Family

Happy 4th of July. An especially busy time of year is upon us. Robert "Dutch" Broussard will be coming down on July 6th as the G-Troop SGM, he will be the new primary Point of Contact for G-Troop Leadership and I will become the secondary. We have had a lot going on with the families in G-Troop. Brooke and Jared got married on 13 June. We found out Jason

Bretzinger and his wife are expecting twins (a boy and a girl), talk about an instant family. We are welcoming Angelo Caraballo-Schweitzer and Noe Abad to G-Troop on 7 July. Vanessa Moak will be departing for a rotation around mid-July and upon her return she will be going to B-Troop, good luck Vanessa on both endeavors. Ray Hickman moved to C-Troop earlier in June. We will be welcoming back Jeff Ingraham who has been deployed since right after the first of the year. Tim Tapio's wife Jeanette has returned to work for half days, hopefully she continues to progress and return to her normal self, so be thinking about her. As always be safe throughout the summer and look out for each other.

Take Care

~ Bill

It is way too hot!!

Regardless, the guys in EMS are plugging away. Glenn is working diligently to ensure that our next vehicle is the best one we have ever had. Looks good so far. Dana got back from convalescent leave...not yet ready for a marathon but says he feels he can take the CO in a 100M sprint. Adam and Mike M just got done with some level 3 training. Eric spent some time at sea...got his Navy on, so to speak. He is doing great things in helping to develop a new capability for JCU. Olshove is training hard with Jack Nichols folks...they keep him busy. Smitty went TDY for a few weeks to do some work on a remote site. The new addition to our building is pretty much done and the fellas are starting to move in. It is gonna be nice. EMS Song of the month – When Doves Cry...Todd Brown picked it...not sure why.

The Motor Pool is working hard. First things first, however – Congratulations to Scott Knox...he is now, to the best of my knowledge, the only grandpa in M-Troop (Mike says that means he is officially old enough now to have a reason for all the meds he takes). He spent a couple weeks with his daughter and was there when she gave birth. Mikey Beach was running things for Scott when he was gone. Mike said he took advantage of Scott being gone and turned in all the junk Scott had lying around. Andy is finding himself right now...he is in a SERE course. I will get back with you next month on that. Roger and Mike are planning on doing some upgrades soon for our SOROC folks. A lot of stuff going on for a 4-man shop...they stay pretty busy. MP Song of the month – Billy Jean...Mike Beach is having a hard time with Michael Jackson's passing.

The Log section is staying gainfully employed. Earle and Jeanice just returned from a whirlwind tour. They spent a few weeks on the road helping the line troops out with some hand-receipt issues. The entire section has the Reachback process working better than ever...it is making a huge difference to the folks out and about in the world. Also, believe Mike Flynn turned 39 this month...congrats! MSS Song of the month is Wild Boys by Duran Duran...Mike Larson and Earle both said that was their favorite.

Config Management stays busy as heck. Carleen separates from active duty on 07 July...we are gonna be hurting for a bit until we get the manning back up.

FM is pretty busy making sure the flow of projects proceeds smoothly. They are doing a great job.

Joe Miller is a one man show! You never hear too much from him but every time he is out of pocket, we feel it. He is a quiet professional.

2009 is halfway gone! Only a couple more months of heat! Everything is going pretty well here...we will see you next month.

~ The M-Troop Crew

More and more personnel scheduled to attend SOROC Class 02-09 are reporting to work every day. Right now, 17 service members and their families are in -processing and trying to settle in prior to the beginning of training. Everyone seems to be adjusting to Fort Bragg and the unit.

To All new personnel and Families: Finding the right place to live, in the right school district, meeting new people and uncertainty of the new job are a few trials associated with coming to a new duty assignment. The Selection and training personnel are here to assist in any way possible. Each person in-processing in the unit has received key phone numbers for the S&T Personnel. Please do not hesitate ask us for help. You are welcome to call any time. We are familiar with the area and can point you to the right resources to help you out.

Welcome to all new service members and their families. The Selection and Training shop looks forward to seeing you at the Family Readiness Group Meeting on 7 July.

Happy 4th of July to All,
~ Dutch

Reminder; Deadline for all entries for this year's SOCA College Scholarship is 15 JUL 09. Winners will be announced in the August edition of the newsletter. For more information please refer to the May edition of Delivering the Message.

JCU Families,

Thank you to Gini Walker for hosting our social last month. I appreciate her help in connecting with the JCU families. As military spouses we have so much to offer one another. We have a unique situation that allows us to get together, share our experiences and our talents. I hope you will consider joining us at our next social, Tuesday, July 28, 2009 at 6:30pm. We host it at the Annex so it will be child friendly.

Congratulations to our SOROC graduates, what an accomplishment! Welcome to our newest members starting the next SOROC class. We will be having an orientation for SOROC families on Tuesday, July 7th at the Staff Annex as well as a luncheon for SOROC spouses on Wednesday, July 8th at the Annex.

Hope to see you all at our JCU Summer Party scheduled for August 7th at Fantasy Lake Water Park. The food and fellowship are always worth the heat!

Thank you to Kim Leach, Deanna Rosario, and Patricia Hernandez for all their time and dedication as key callers, it is truly appreciated. I also want to thank Lori Knutson (A Troop), Kim Melby (C Troop) and Natalie Lewis (E Troop) for volunteering to be key callers.

Have a safe and wonderful summer!

The 2009 JCU Softball team made it to the Championship game yet again this year. The guys played their hearts out and came away with the Runner-up trophy. As rain threatened the game, it cleared just enough to allow the game to go on. The field was nasty, the guys were muddy, morale was high, all the makings of a great game. JCU has a great history at the Pope Softball Complex. Every team knows that in order to be the best, they have to beat JCU. Both teams played an amazing game, but 66th AOS walked away with the championship trophy for 2009. Great season guys and we look forward to next year's championship game already.

Dear JCU Family,

Our tour here at JCU has now been brought to an end. I struggle to find the words to adequately convey my deepest thank you's for that you all have done for my family and me. I leave here a better person and NCO for having known you all. You all have truly done more for me than I could ever do for you. I sincerely hope that our paths will cross again.

If there is anything I can do for anyone, please let me know. My phone number is 910-583-1773 and email at chris_martin4@hotmail.com. If you find yourself around Wichita Falls, Texas, please look us up.

Goodbye and God Bless,

Natalie, Christian, Adrienne, Andrew, and Adeline Martin

I am still in disbelief that this day has actually come and to say that leaving is difficult is an under-statement. But the best decisions are not always the easiest. Because of the Navy's decision to limit our tours I will be ending my fifteen years of Navy service so that I can remain with my family. I have been so incredibly blessed to have served alongside the finest military and civilian personnel in the world and I am sure that I will never encounter a better group again in my lifetime. I will certainly miss everyone and please keep in touch. I hope to see everyone again soon and wish everyone the best.

Answer to last months RETRO JCU ? (did you guess correctly?)

The little boy shown last month is none other than MAJ Joe Pishock from Operations. Interviewing his wife Kris, she had this to say "As a cute 5-year old in 1977. Note the pin on the left side of his shirt - tap dance shoes!!! He is no Fred Astaire but certainly knows how to keep everyone on their toes. Whether it is hot dog day, loyalty chocolates, the JCU Spirit Award, or the OPSO salutes you mug, he provides "leadership" and keeps the morale of the squadron high. Keep doing a great job, Twinkle Toes!!!". Thank you Kris for sharing a little piece of your hubby's life with us. We all know it is a full time job just keeping him straight.

The JCU Print

Commemorating 25 years of JCU professionals

Damon Haigh was commissioned to create an original JCU Print designed to celebrate the outstanding contributions that JCU members have made since its inception. Everyone who has seen the print agrees that Damon did an incredible job. This print makes a great gift for current and past unit members. In order to get your limited edition (500 signed/numbered) JCU Print, bring cash or check (payable to the JCU Activities Club) to the SGM while supplies last. The print costs $50 and if you want a shipping tube please include an additional $3. If you need the print to be mailed, include a shipping cost of $10 (includes shipping tube).
