

DELIVERING THE MESSAGE

Volume 5, Issue 3
March 1, 2010

MESSAGE FROM THE FIRST SERGEANT

We have a lot of things going on right now and plenty more coming. Since I have the opportunity to take a front page headline, I want to just fill everyone in on the upcoming JCU 30th Anniversary & Reunion. December 24, 2010 will mark the 30th anniversary of this great unit. We have an annual party celebrating our anniversary in December. Since it is in December, most people believe it is a Christmas Party. It has been mistaken as such sometimes depending on the wording, but it has always been about the anniversary of the unit. Starting in 2000 for the 20th Anniversary, it was decided that every five years, we would host an Anniversary & Reunion party. It's not just a party, but a two-day event. This year's event will be held on 16-17 December and will consist of an alumni gathering, social, golf outing and the 30th Anniversary Ball.

Day one will start around noon with an informal gathering of current members and alumni here at the unit. We will have static displays set up and give the alumni a tour of JCU today. Food & drink will be provided. Later that evening will be the social at the Airborne and Special Operations Museum. Food & Drink will be catered.

Day two will start off with a golf outing, course is still to be determined. Food & drink will be catered. Cost for golfers will be $40 each. The two-day event will conclude later that evening with the semi-formal ball held at the Holiday Inn Bordeaux. Cost per person will be $30 each.

We hope that everyone takes part in all or some of the events. These anniversary events have always been very good and the past events are still talked about today. With the upgrade to our website database and word of mouth, we have been in touch with more alumni today than in the past. We expect that the semi-

-formal ball alone will be 400-500 people.

As you can imagine, this kind of event costs money, and a lot of it. We have been in touch with our alumni and different sponsors in order to off-set some of the cost for everyone.

As always, there will be special memorabilia created to commemorate this historic period in our unit. Ideas are welcome, but as of now we have a coin, t-shirt, and hat planned for production.

We look forward to seeing everyone there. Mark your calendar's now for what is sure to be a great time.

February is drawing to a close and the fellas have been very busy in training this month. Thanks to the instructors out at SOROC for providing I-Direct Hub refresher training to our guys. The server 08 and Cisco QoS classes went well despite problems with vendor provided equipment. As always, our guys rose to the occasion and supplied working equipment to make the classes happen. You truly are DoD's Finest. Our last major training event is ongoing with some of the new guys getting their brains stretched by Ronnie Watts. Thanks Ronnie, we appreciate you passing on your experience to our troop. Thanks to Rob Gehring for providing training and support to our 112th brethren as they get ready to execute their missions. They and I appreciate your hard work.

We have many members that have been traveling all over the place. Gus, Heidi, and Connor attended survival training in Spokane. They are almost back to normal; if anyone in this command can be said to be 'normal.' Nate Hogue and his posse have been finishing a Herculean task up in the DC area. Every troop has challenges with that mission and you have risen to the occasion with style. Scott Beadell has been bouncing outstanding support just as Blake Schimmel headed out on an around-the-world trip. James Jordahl and Jeremy Jenkins (should we shorten that to J³ or J⁴?) are just about to come home from their vacation to Vancouver (you're welcome guys) where they did an outstanding job.

Dan Knouse is about to graduate the MFF JM school. Well done Dan, now get back to work. Last but not least, Marlon Vega is down at Ft. Benning attending the Basic Airborne course where he is entering his last week of training; feet and knees together brother.

And finally, thanks to all the men who came in to run a family VTC for the members and spouses of D-Troop. Your coming in to support them is appreciated. Your concern for the mission and care for our extended family is what truly makes A-TROOP! such a special place to work.

~Travis

This last month has been like busy like any other, busy. We sent over half the troop to Spokane for SERE training and the last eight brave souls endured sub-zero temperatures in Fort Drum, New York. As always our guys and gals performed well. I am sure you know by now we are changing our cycle system. The B-Troop leadership have diligently been working on all of our upcoming training iterations and we will set the bar for other Troops to follow. I want to congratulate Mark Krob on his recent birthday, the Jenkins (Lekecia how did you put up with that guy 11yrs) and Tate families on their anniversaries, and finally Chuck To on his promotion to MSgt. March will bring a few changes to the Troop. Jay Pylman and I will conduct our change of command on March 5th. Jay has been in the community for over 10 years and is more than qualified for the job. I would also like to welcome his wife Lisa and their three children, Taylor, Hunter, and Mickinley to the B-Troop family. I can honestly say I will never trade my time with B-Troop for any other job I have performed in 20yrs of service. To the troop members I would like to thank you for the memories and your dedication. To the families, thank you for your support and sacrifice. Bow to no one!

~ Bryan

Not a lot to report for this month. Most of the Troop is out of town, or at least not at work this month. Several people have been away on leave or in schools this month and will be for a few more weeks. Since there hasn't been any significant things going on, I will take a few minutes to talk about the scheduling changes that the Commander mentioned last month and how that will affect us. The major reason for the change is to allow us to properly train for the missions that we are required to perform and ensure that our guys are prepared and focused for each mission that we are required to do. For us, it requires us to cut our recovery phase and begin our focused training prior to going on mission this spring. Although this sounds like a bad thing, it will actually work in our favor for a few reasons. Prior to the changes we would have been committed to something for two consecutive holiday seasons, but now we will be in another training cycle for the holidays. So although it may feel like we are getting a condensed recovery phase after deployment, it will prove to work in our favor in the long run. The most important thing is that any scheduled leaves and schools will not be cancelled, so if you have plans you will still be able to do them.

I hope this explains what is going on a little for C-Troop. I would like to plan a FRG meeting in the next few weeks to put out a little more information, but am going to wait until everyone is back from leave to do it, so you are all able to attend. If we are able to do it this month feel free to wish Sean Mitcham a happy birthday and the Melby and Modest families a happy anniversary.

~ Millsy

WOW! It's already March. The Troop has been deployed for nearly two months and they have things under control! Ensuring that the troop is doing communications is the least of my worries. Vanessa has been trying to kill me at PT! Jon Woosley, Tyler Reese and Ramondoe Goodrich completed their first 10K while deployed. I had no idea that 10 Kilometers overseas equals 3.4 miles. Just ask them! Better yet, they still got a T-shirt! All the new guys have hit the ground running, a lot of them have already traveled on their own to set up COMMS. Dave Kelly and crew have been making snow angels and snow men. Eric Dietzel was caught eating a yellow snow cone and he swore he got it at the dining facility. At least it wasn't blue, it would have lead us to believe he got it elsewhere. LCDR Hill and 1SG Spencer honored us with their presence and were reminiscent of locust. They ate, complained about our coffee, and slept. Just kidding, they were a welcome sight and continue to bring motivation, purpose and direction to the troop. Thanks for the support! SMSgt

Delmar Walker and SGM Mike Adcox (Big Red) completed turnover. I would like to thank Mike for his continued support to the organization and we hope to hear from him soon. Reminder, I need some dirt on your spouse's so please submit all those stories by 20 March to CNICHOLS16@nc.rr.com. Big thanks to A-troop for making the family VTC a success. Lastly, I would like to thank all the contractors and augmentees for their continued contributions to our proud nation. Our next VTC is scheduled for the 14th!

~ Jack

This has been an extremely busy month within E Troop and I know that all of the family members have felt this tempo since your spouse has spent quite a few extended hours at work this month. We welcome Gama Rodriguez back from his rotation and sent Mike Crain to relieve him. Sergio Hernandez reenlisted in the Army and to celebrate went on a rotation to assist the command with a network upgrade. Bryan Fooshee has assumed the duties of the E Troop SGM as Chad Lewis prepares for reassignment back to the Marine Corps in Quantico. Welcome to SSgt Dave Lonack and his wife Mary Lee. Dave has been in JCU for almost 4 years already and is coming to E Troop from B Troop. Scott Bachand is currently attending the Air Force NCO Academy in Alabama; I am sure he misses all of us and can't wait to return. A Thanks just doesn't seem adequate enough. After a little over 3 years in E Troop and JCU, I have accepted a new position and am leaving JCU. I will always be amazed at the caliber of personnel that we have in E Troop. The entire shop is comprised of motivated and talented individuals that consistently place mission and doing a great job ahead of everything else. I am sure that there have been numerous family occasions or events that an E Troop member has had to miss due to mission requirements. Most of us just accept that as part of being associated with the military, but those sacrifices are definitely significant. I am extremely proud of the contributions that each of you have made to E Troop, JCU and the defense of this great country. I consider it an honor to have been able to work and support all of you during my time in E Troop. Best of luck to each of you and let me know if I can ever be of assistance to you.

~ Tony

It seems like I just saw the last month's newsletter come out a couple of days ago. February kind of came and went pretty quick. I don't know if it was because there are only 28 days in the month or because we have a lot going on. One day seems to be running into the next. Anyway, here is some news from G-Troop.

In case you have not heard, Joe and Terrie Anne Thomas are the proud parents of a big baby boy. David Alexander Thomas came in to this world February 15 weighing 10.1 lbs and measuring a whopping 21.5 in. Congratulations Joe and Terrie Anne. Remember... diapers are recyclable.

John Mosley and Fabian Robles had a little added stress on them last month. They both took a few days off from the office to prepare for and take their advancement test for the Air Force. I'm sure you guys did well. Good luck with it Fellas.

forward with Will and Rich. Mike, I know you are going to do great things for the team, have fun while you are out there. Michelle, make sure you let me know if Mike is not calling home, I'll set him straight. Seriously, let me know if we can help you out while Mike is gone.

WELCOME BACK HOME Jim Guillemette! I hope you are enjoying your time off while you knock out that "Honey do" list.

OT and Ryan took off a few days to spend time with their families. OT and Damarys went skiing and Ryan and Sarah went on the Chaplain's Retreat. Sounds like they each had fun on their well deserved time away from work.

You might have seen this on Facebook or somewhere else on the "www." After the Troop took the unit PT test; John Hickey is claiming to be the PT Stud for the Troop. Heck, if you talk to John, he might, quite possibly lead you to believe he is the best in the world. Good job John, you motivate me.

There are three significant events I would like to make you aware of for the month of March... 14 March at 0200 (AM) the clocks move back for Daylight Savings Time, 20 March is the first day of Spring; 17 March is St. Patrick's Day (officially celebrated on 13 March at COL McLaughlin's house from 1800 – UTC) I don't know about you, I can't wait for daylight savings, I like it when the sun is up when I drive home in the evening and, I look forward to free food and drinks at the Boss' house.

I really did not say too much about work.... Hub install, Ka prep, training, audits, evals, awards, travel, travel planning, troubleshooting, reporting, timesheets, meetings, shift work, coordination, Solar Winds, upgrades, more training, more shift work, more meetings, etc.. Keep up the good work team. Thanks for all you do.

~ Dutch

Hello from M-Troop. We have survived the crazy weather changes this month and in the process, achieved some amazing things in the troop. We would first like to welcome back Stacey. He successfully completed the US Navy Senior Enlisted Academy, the top level of enlisted PME the Navy has to offer. We are glad to have him back.

The Electronics shop has been enjoying some time to reorganize the work center. They have implemented the work order tracking software which will allow them to track trends, man hours and supply parts. Thanks to Mr. Linder and Jeff Huffman for coming up with this amazing capability. Jerry Dover and Vince Olshove are still deployed doing great things forward. We are sending out Shane Simpson to provide some relief for Vince. Adam Kelley and Dana Roberson are back from their time down range. We are glad to have them back. According to C-Troop, they were invaluable assets. We would also like to welcome Jeff Drew to the work center. We are looking forward to his technical ability, but more to the skills he brings to the Highland Games! Mike Clark and Todd Brown have been busy going through the pain of sorting the maintenance supply stock. Hang in there guys! Congrats to the EMS Detachment Chief Chris Smith of not only his selection as the Command's 12 Outstanding Airmen of the Year award but also as the USSOCOM General Jumper award winner. Way to be the example!

Penny and the LRS crew are doing an incredible job of not only meeting their daily requirements but also re-aligning the office to provide a greater service to the unit. Their actions show that they go above and beyond every day.

Scott Knox and the Motor Pool crew are juggling tasks daily. They are the best at what they do and are in demand by everyone in the unit. They have revamped our training facility and made it into a functioning environment suited for the latest communications equipment by adding a more robust power and HVAC system. The guys did it with minimal man power and saved the unit over $200,000 in outside costs. They passed the EPA walkthrough with flying colors (as if Scott was worried). They have always been stellar and will continue to amaze the unit.

The configuration management section is down one man. Literally, Jesse Casari went in for round two of hip replacement. He is recovering well at home. Hang in there Carleen!

I would lastly like to say thanks to all the families of the M-Troop members for supporting them in all their endeavors.

~ Todd P

Hello everyone, SOROC class 1-10 has recently completed their first unit physical fitness test and completed Communications Exercise number 1. Great Job Class 1-10! Keep up the hard work and dedication. I would like to send out thanks to one of our unsung heroes of the unit. Stan Sweeney is the person that makes sure all the unit logistics for jumps run flawlessly. Stan is a recipient of the Operations Officer "Cup of Awesomeness". Thanks Stan for leading from the front every day and good luck during the new Senior Leadership Course. On a side note we may struggle a little bit with our backup Ken G. filling in during the absence of Stan. Congratulations to Jay Baker , Jeremy Pinkelman and Dan Knouse for Completing the Military Free Fall Jumpmaster Course....Great Job guys! We look forward to working with you on unit jumps.

~ Thanks, S&T

JCU Activities Club Membership Status

In order for the JCU Activities Club (JCUAC) to remain ready to support our members and their families, all JCU members must do their part and keep current on their dues. The JCUAC is currently sitting at 241 out of 289 (84%) that are current for this year. Next year's membership drive will start on July 1, 2010. While being a member of the JCUAC is in no way mandatory, it is highly encouraged. Membership is open to all JCU members except deployed contractors & IA's. The JCUAC provides baby baskets, flowers for hospitalizations or funerals, FRG Lunches, single service -member lunches, reduced or free Hooah Appreciation Day lunches, free unit picnic entry for whole family, free entry into the annual anniversary party, reduced price for every 5-year anniversary & reunion party, free children's Christmas party, Highland Game Streamers, JCU departure plaque and much more. The JCUAC also stocks the JCU store and only makes a few dollars off of most items. While the Special Operations Communicators Association provides support for the big annual anniversary party, the JCUAC pays for all other expenses. It is very important that we keep the money coming in and keep giving you and your families the best possible support for unit morale & welfare. I ask that you take the time to take care of your dues with me or on our website, there is now a PayPal button located on the store page under the cool stuff tab and you can use any credit card for payment. Everyone will benefit from the JCUAC at some point, some may not get anything from it for years, the point being is that it isn't about any ONE of us, it is about the JCU TEAM and is how we can make a difference in a member or their families eyes when the need arises or off-setting cost's at various events. Taking care of our own since 1980, it is a tradition not a task. Thank you for your time.

Answer to last months RETRO JCU ? (did you guess correctly?)

Last month's RETRO picture is none other than SSgt Amy Smith from D-Troop. In an interview with Amy she said "The picture of me was taken at my Kindergarten graduation in 1988 in New Bedford, PA before I was even a twinkle in the JCU's eye. A picture of me in a dress is a rare occurrence so take it in folks! If I was stateside I would have had this dress recreated to fit me now for my after shot. Maybe next time!" Thank you Amy for sharing a little piece of your life with us.
