Joint Communications Unit

Delivering the Message

Message from the Commander

Well the last time I wrote for the newsletter. I started it with "I can't believe it is Summer already". I guess now I'm supposed to say that Summer is almost over, but it was 103 degrees today, so if Summer IS almost over I think Maintenance Troop may have to do some work on their "weather adjuster" Mr. Linder is building down in the shop. The Summer really has flown by and while I hope everyone that was able to be home this Summer has had opportunity to spend time with the Family and friends—we as a unit have remained extremely busy.

I'd like to personally congratulate the members of SOROC 1-11 for graduation from the most demanding communications course in DoD and also thank the Family members of the class for their support of their spouses during the course-reminder, it won't get any easier but it is going to be the assignment of a lifetime for all of you. We also welcomed SOROC 2-11 in July and as of this writing, S&T is hard at work running the class through the tactical portion of the course.

D Troop (and all the other elements of the unit alongside D Troop) have been extremely busy over the last 3 months and we look forward to their return soon. They continue to show everyone around them why we are called "DoD's Finest" through some extremely challenging events. B Troop, SMT, and the NOSC have really embraced their new/expanded roles in the organization and exceeded anything I could have anticipated—but I should know by now never to be surprised by the ingenuity, and determination of a JCU Communicator. A Troop has been under the constant thumb of "Angry Frank" and I'm pretty sure everyone in A Troop is just ready to get on with business. and M continues to be the glue that holds this unit together-the true unsung heroes of this organization. Follow up on the CSM's notes last month, I want to talk a little bit about safety, specifically motorcycle safety. We obviously have a lot of "riders" in JCU, and I would like to ask everyone in the unit who rides to take the extra step in maintaining your bike, to ride within your skill level, ensure you have the proper (and regulatory) safety equipment, and in general, just take every precaution to be safe. "community" has amount of disproportionate motorcycle accidents relative to the rest of DoD and I don't want anvone in this unit to become a statistic.

Thanks to all the Leaders and their Families that came out to the Swamp Dogs game, and I look forward to seeing everyone at the JCU Family picnic. It will probably be the last "summertime" event for most before all of the kids go back to school. It is also time to start thinking about plans for the JCU Holiday party. Any good ideas need to be forwarded to 1SG Prasse. Congratulations to all of our recently promoted/selected NCO's and Honor Grads from various professional schools (too many to write here). To quote mν "Awesome performance by the JCU Team—no wonder it is the best signal unit in the world. Congratulations to all".

Finally. I want to personally congratulate consider someone - 1 DEFINITION of a professional NCO, and someone I consider a personal friend, on his retirement. SGM Adcox: thanks for everything you and your Family have sacrificed over the past 12+ years to make this organization what it is today. You will be missed.

It is an honor to serve with all of you.

DoD's Finest!

~Sam Anderson

Seems like I just finished writing the newsletter input for last Well, let's see, we are month. definitely in the final stages of ramping up. Everyone has been pulling some long nights fixing the training lab so that it is ready for the unit to test us before everyone gets some well deserved time off. JJ, Ceven and Joe, thanks, you guys rock! We also took the opportunity to get everyone together and played a game of Frisbee football in honor of Pat's retirement. As you can see from the pictures, Pat has taken on a whole new outlook on life since his retirement. Good Luck Pat.

Congratulations is also in order for Marlon, Joe and Chris. All three finally earned their EXW pin, now maybe I can get some work out Just kidding guys. of them. congratulations, I know you guys put a lot of time into preparing for this.

And lastly, Rob Lopez is finally legal. Let me clarify on that one. Rob completed the 82nd Advanced Airborne School's T-11 Jumpmaster training, so he can now perform Jumpmaster duties. Well that's all for now hope to see everyone at the Camp Rockfish.

A Troop is rolling deep.

Looking Pattastic!!!!!!!!!!!

Nobody else could wear this outfit better.

Micah Modest: the team has been in excellent shape and able to handle such arduous training.

Hello again! Another month has another adventure downrange; we quickly passed by. As always, it was welcome back Dan Lane and Oscar a busy time in C-Troop. The team has Campos. Lastly, my family and I sincerely thank all of you for your prayers, well wishes and the beautiful flowers for our family during my Father's funeral.

How va'll been. Well looks like D Troop is coming out of the turn and into the home stretch, won't be long and we will be headed home. No time to relax just yet, lots of work still to be done but rest assured we will finish strong. Again it simply is amazing the talent we have and the things our folks can do. Last go around I asked for some feedback on my unique antics in the newsletter. I received none and take your silence to mean you are completely in awe of my obvious literary genius. What's that you say, I didn't give you any contact information or avenue to address your concerns? Now you're just quibbling.

Last edition we were handing out congrats to the Avila family on the birth of their daughter and looks like they will get another this edition. Congratulations to JR, Lisa, and the whole Avila family on JR's selection to Chief Petty Officer, good timing JR your gonna need that extra money with the new baby. Not only did JR get selected, but so did ET1 Mike Larson. Now Mike isn't technically D

Troop but we have kind of adopted him and accepted him as one of our own. I for one am so looking forward to hearing Popeye the Sailor Man and Barnacle Bill the Sailor sung in perfect harmony from two of DoD's finest. Also seeing a bit more in his paycheck this month (despite Washington's latest larking about) is Marcus Jett who was promoted to SFC. I think Marcus mentioned he wanted to wait and conduct the official ceremony when we get back, something about buying us all beer. Obviously he is thinking like a SNCO already. Well deserved.

A Special Shout Out is in order; we are talking history making stuff here folks. For those of you who don't know, Big Jon's "much cooler" wife Dannielle is a Golden Knight. She and a few other high speed Golden Knights won the Gold Medal in Women's Formation Skydiving and the Silver in Team Accuracy during the 5th Counseil International du Sport Milltaire (CISM) Military World Games, the first medal ever for the women's team. Overall the Knights won four medals. Probably see her on Letterman of Leno this fall, maybe even catch a glimpse of Big Jon eating the freebies watching from the Green Room. I know whose name I'm going to be dropping on the red carpet, CISM Gold Medal Winner Dannielle Woosley. AWESOME!

This installments Outstanding Words and Phrases that Grabbed our Attention (still no ideas on a better title... seriously a little help here) section, will start with "Capital T site", for when your t-site just ain't big enough you can go with the Capital T site. And just a few more for your reading pleasure, "Multi-cams = Street Cred.", "Debt Ceiling", "OPCON", "OPCON my A$$", "if only we had a video game named after us", and finally "inbred sister lover".

Well that's all for now. I would appreciate your feedback and I have set up a website and e-mail address for your convenience. You can send your correspondence to www.asiflwouldreallydothat.com or e-mail del@seriously?.net

Hello. It's getting harder and harder to think of creative ways to tell everyone how busy we've been in M-Troop without repeating myself. Since my return from leave, I've noticed that the Electronics Maintenance section has been running very smoothly and it seems to be uncharacteristically guiet on the shop floor. Did I mention that Shane has been on leave? In his absence, Clyde has stepped in to run the shop and has been doing an amazing job of keeping up with a projects, multitude of critical requirements, and admin stuff which required tracking. I've received numerous reports from Jack and

Greg in SMT about the excellent support that Petty officer Topher has given to SMT on their last few site visits. I just hope he didn't promise them too much on future visits.... Great Job Toph! Smitty and the VideoWallers have remained busy with what seems to be an endless request for Video Wall systems. The popularity of these systems has far outgrown what I imagined it would when we starting producing them 8 months ago. The FY12 CPO list has come out and I'm happy to say that one of our own, ET1 Mike Larson. has been selected advancement to E-7. The next 6 weeks of CPO induction will determine whether or not he has what it takes to be a Chief. Congratulations Mike, Amador, Angela, Pasquale and Daniel and to the rest of the Navy's newest Selectees. I'd like to finish off this month with a special mention to the M -Troop civilians, Dick, Carleen, Mike, Todd, Mike, Roger, Jesse, Andy, Jeanice. Penny and Joe. who makeup the backbone of the Troop and provide institutional knowledge and continuity to their shops and the entire troop. Take care.

~Mike

Once again another month has blown by; it is hard to believe the kids are headed back to school already. A lot of members were able to enjoy some well deserved leave and soak up some sun; there was plenty of it that's for sure. With temperatures soaring above 100° the NOSC conducted a range and placing a weapon in the hands of a bunch of nerds was not as scary as I imagined it would be. We have to be the most lethal group of nerds on the planet. We all enjoyed being out of the office in and watching a female marine out shoot Rambo Ramsler. Although he lacks in marksmanship, Randy Amsler completed his Associates degree in Electronic Systems Technologies, congratulations Randy maybe you can build a scope to help you zero!!! James "Sponge Bob" Lewis recently completed the T11 Jump Master course. Good job!!!

We can never forget the job our deployed members are doing out forward. Thanks for all you do and we will see you soon!! In all that we accomplish it is our love ones at home that often perform the thankless task of supporting us. On this day be reminded that your sacrifices have not gone unnoticed and we want you to know that it is appreciated.

One more thing the lockout is over so get ready for some football!!

~TJ

Rambo Randy Amsler watches over the range with pity upon his peers who don't have the same killer instinct or abilities that he possesses.

Is it hot or what? Bring it on! always another month that brought on training. deployments, personnel. We would like to welcome the families of Eddie Robles, Chuck Brandt, William Cotten, Jory Mathis, Alton Seglund and Lenin Castillo. They bring invaluable amounts knowledge and experience to the SMT Speaking of knowledge and team. experience we have several immeasurable teammates getting

Divided by sections, but collectively we represent one large family of outstanding communicators. difficult to address the successes of the Troop from month to month but believe me, they are numerous. From the amount of awards, promotions, and graduations you should be proud of the accomplishments of your loved ones. To the families, and to all our deployed brethren keep up the good work and thanks for the countless sacrifices you've made for the unit and our nation! SMT and JCU will continue to man the watch.
