JCU,

It has been a fast-paced four months since I took command back in June. I am impressed by the commitment, competence and motivation of all of our JCU service members. In my travels over the past four months I have been stopped on numerous occasions by leaders internal and external to the command wanting to tell me about how well our service members are performing or how they add value on a daily basis. Thank you for your professionalism and drive. I've attended several JCU FFG and JSOC FFG events. I appreciate our family members and spouses who take time out of their busy schedules to volunteer and participate in these events. One of the foundations of a strong unit are the relationships established within the unit. We are stronger together as a team than as individuals. The JCU FFG and JSOC FFG members and families. I encourage all of our personnel and families to attend at least one event and take advantage of the numerous offerings provided by JCU and the command.

I'm proud to be part of such and exceptional organization. Keep learning, growing and getting the mission accomplished!! DoD's Finest!

-LTC Adam Sannutti

Command Sergeant Major

Team JCU,

It's been a busy last few months. LTC Sannutti has stepped into position and has provided guidance and focus toward the direction and future of JCU. One of our troops and enablers are completing one deployment, while others are heading out to replace them. We have completed four major exercises, had a Service Member compete at the JSOC Service Member of the Year competition, a number of promotion selections including the culmination of the Navy Chiefs Indoctrination Program, Family events, the JSOC Ball, competitors in the JSOC Shooting Competition, senior leader offsite, JCU Picnic (Thanks, First Sergeant and the Picnic crew for pulling it off), and a slew of many other events. It's been a really busy last few months for sure! So proud of our JCU team and Families for everything they do.

The next few months will be just as busy. Some of the good things to look forward to, is getting back everyone who was deployed over the last few months, preparing for Thanksgiving and the Holidays, the JCU Anniversary Party, the JCU and JSOC Christmas Parties, the JSOC Halloween Party, JCU Turkey Bowl, the SOCA JSO 10K, and much, much more. I encourage all Service Members, Civilians, Friends, Families, and teammates take part in as many events as possible. Some of these events are fundraisers, some are just plain fun, but all of them are for the JCU team and Families.

The Chaplain continues to work hard for our JCU team, providing help and assistance to our teammates and Families, while developing the plans for more Family events. Last year, we conducted seven Family events, spending nearly one third more than our allocated budget in the process. The Chaplain worked his magic to find creative ways to use other people's money to take care of our JCU Family. However, with the fiscal year, we didn't receive as much funding as we did last year. What this means is we will have to find creative ways to make the funds go further. We still plan to host Family events and we want to encourage maximum participation. The more participation we have, the more of a chance we have to get more resources next year. We have to be smart with our spending to make our money go further, but if anyone can figure it out, it's the Chaplain.

As we move into the Holiday seasons, please take time with Friends and Family and make the most of it. Be safe and carefully plan your adventures. Use resources available to you to get assistance if you need it. To all of our dedicated JCU teammates and Families, thanks for all you do. It takes a team of dedicated professionals to accomplish a mission and without the support, dedication, and teamwork of our JCU Families and Friends, our teammates cannot accomplish that mission. Until next time...

DoD's Finest!

Headquarters Troop

Hello HHT families!

Well we made it through summer break and have finally moved into some cooler weather. There have been lots of alumni moving on and a lot of great new talent coming in.

On June 28th we marked another milestone in JCU history as we bid farewell to LTC James Chastain and welcomed the 16th JCU Commander, LTC Adam Sannutti. LTC Sannutti and his wife Joanne have hit the ground running and we are all excited to have them onboard.

Our Operations section is staying busy as usual. This quarter we said goodbye to a couple of folks and welcomed a few more. MAJ Dave Knutzen moved over to the NOSS, we're happy to be able to see him daily as he works technical projects for the Unit. SFC Justin White heads over the JSOC J37 after 8 years in JCU. Job well done, Justin! We're pleased to welcome a few new members to the Ops section. MAJ Mark Saurer comes to us from ILE and CPT James Griffes comes to us from the 528th across post. Additionally, the Griffes Family welcomed their new daughter, Norah on 7 October. Congratulations to you all! We also welcomed

SFC Adam Hawn as our new S&T NCOIC, SFC Anthony Stewart as a Military Free Fall instructor, and SSG Vince Mankowski as an Operations NCO. We look forward to welcoming our incoming pax in the next few months as well.

As for our J1 section we have had many great things this year. Our Air Force J1 NCOIC, Donell Walker was deservingly promoted from TSgt to MSgt with his family present during the September promotion and awards ceremony. We briefly welcomed Joey back after a safe and productive deployment and bid him farewell as he moves up the hill to JSOC J1. The J1 section as a whole received commendable ratings in all categories of the recent Initial Command Inspection, including Top Performer recognition for Julian, Donell and Mr. Bill Tingen.

On July 3rd, we had our 11th Annual Highland Games at Woodland park and had a great turn out. B troop took the banner this year, but it was a good competition. I love seeing families and Service Members getting together and building that much needed comradery. August 8th was our Annual Summer Picnic at Lake Pines Swim Club. We have hosted it there for the last couple years and it has been a blast. Lots of smiling faces and full bellies. I'd like to thank George and Greg for their hard work on the grill to get everyone fed.

A reminder that our 39th Anniversary Ball on 6 December. RSVPs are due to me from the Troop SGMs NLT 30 October. I think this will be one to remember. Again, special thanks to Christina Linnemann who knocked it out of the park with this year's planning. I have never see someone do such much with the budget that we gave her. Another big shout out to SOCA and more specifically Todd "Dookie" Spencer and John "Sully" Sullivan for making this ball possible with gracious donation. They have given so much more to this command than we could ever give them. I look forward to seeing you all there!

Our annual children's holiday party will be on 13 December at Dragon Lanes. There will be bowling, pizza, cookies and plenty of fun. I hope to see you all there.

I wanted to highlight a couple things that I have been witness to the last few months. We have had a couple family's in need with everything from food after the birth of a child to broken AC units to help with lawn care while their spouse is deployed. In every single one of these cases it took no more than a phone call and we had someone out there to help them. This speaks volumes to the caliber of folks we have in our ranks and I for one am proud to be a part of this organization.

Lastly I'd like to thank you all for your continued support to our hardworking service members and civilians who continue to do the nation's work day in and day out. As I always say, we are only successful because of the families that stand behind us...thank you for always caring and understanding through the long days, late nights, and sometimes weekend duties.

I know that the Holidays can be busy and stressful so always, email or call me if you need anything... and I mean anything. My email is corleyjw@jdi.socom.mil, office number is 910-243-9134 and my cell is 931-444-9921.

A Troop

Happy Fall from A-Troop to your family!

I hope everyone back home is staying cool during this fall season, as in true North Carolina fashion, you don't know whether to put on sun screen or a jacket before you leave the house. You could say we are "1st and goal" here for this rotation and are all anxious to get back to our friends and loved ones. It has been a very busy and eventful rotation, but please know that the team is in great spirits and taking care of business from afar. The effort put into the training prior to us leaving has paid off many times over, there hasn't been a situation that the troop wasn't able to handle with careful precision. Along with the outstanding support, the people of A-troop upheld the standard everyone has come to expect. We had Glen Purvis win the SMOQ 3rd QTR board and was selected as the JCU Soldier of the Year. As well, we had SSgt Travis Caron win Outstanding ISR Contributor Award for JSOC and is now competing for that award at the SOCOM level. Just before we left and since we have been gone we are proud to announce that six members of our A-Troop family have been promoted. ARMY: Andrew Mish is now a Master Sergeant and Brandon Hilliard is wearing a 2nd rocker. Though he hasn't pinned yet, Glen Purvis has made the SFC list. NAVY: Rob Geyer and Liz Mahaney have been selected to the rank of Chief Petty Officer. AIR FORCE: Also not pinned yet, Travis Caron has made the TSgt list. Unfortunately, we will be officially saying good-bye to some of these great communicators as they move on with their careers and help JCU move forward into the future in other capacities. Chief Mike Ignoffo will be holding down the M-Troop P&P position, Liz will be moving over to SOSIT OPS, Travis is heading over the Cyber Troop, Ben Wildes will be bringing his cool demeanor to FUOPS, and Jake Gauger will be the new SOC-OTC A-TAC

#alwaysbeingevaluated!

Last but certainly not least, we all owe a great deal of gratitude to the friends and families back home who continue to support their loved ones as they are away doing the nation's work!

We can never thank you enough! If your significant other has not been contacting you enough please let Tim know, duncant@jdi.socom.mil. He may have a few ideas to get them on the horn with you. Again, thank you for the support and we wish you all the best!

B Troop

Greetings B Troop family,

B-Troop has been very busy the past few months and it seems that time has just flown by. The Troop conducted multiple training exercises during this pre-deployment cycle and you should be proud of everything they have done. They started off this cycle by conducting medical training which is something we expect every service member to be proficient at. Our medics, Ryan and Ron, gave the Troop members valuable tools that will help them render aid not only at work, but out in the civilian world.

The Troop spent a few days at the range and navigating around training areas completing tasks at different stages of the course. Jim McKnight was at the range in full force, ensuring that Troop members were performing range operations safely and that they were proficient on their weapon systems. B Troop's very own Brian Cornwell and Norm Lewis took teams through training areas to complete tasks and navigate to different locations. Even though one team walked through a mini Vietnam Jungle and had to turn around, they eventually made it to their location. It was hot out there and Brian Allum looked like he just got done playing in a sprinkler all day, as most of the guys did. Derreck Martin, being the great leader he is, took a page out of Chuck Fletcher's playbook and rode around on the UTV and delivered water as the team navigated the course in the heat.

Do you like to drive fast and do moves as if you were in Fast and Furious? Well that is exactly what B-Troop did at Virginia International Raceway. The troop members learned how to drive at fast rates of speed and how to control spin outs due to oversteering and understeering. The troop member's faces looked like kids in a candy store when they did close proximity driving and weaving in and out of each other. The slowest driver award goes to Christian Rolland as he looked like Ricky Bobby the first time back on the track from his accident. Christian was passed by squirrels and butterflies on the track and myself and Markus Annis were sure to let him know. The troop became proficient at driving at high rates of speed and built confidence that they would be able to execute their training in a real world situations if need be.

We finished off our training cycle with an overabundance of technical classes to ensure that we were brushed up on the latest technologies and that we were ready to complete our mission as DOD's finest. Many troop members completed their CCNP, CCDA and even CCNA certifications.

Other mentionable notes are that we want to congratulate Leevin and Jeremy on their selection to SFC. B-TROOP WON THE HIGHLAND GAMES!! "Fake Jake" Westbrook got married and Issac Sanchez-Hawkins won the award for creepiest mustache. Last but not least, I want to thank the families of B-Troop!! When the troop is conducting training and traveling around, the families are holding down the house. We could not do anything without the awesome families. As the troop gets ready to deploy, please reach out if you need anything. I know the bi-monthly lake parties won't be the same without the guys, but please reach out to Amber, she is here to help.

"The JCU families are our greatest asset and we are here to support you. Thanks for all the support you give us."—A Wise Man

C Troop

Greetings from C-Troop again. First and foremost, I would like to thank everyone for supporting us in some of the most demanding times of our training. Without your support, we could not possibly have accomplished everything we did. I hope these last four months have been slightly less demanding on the home life as we focused on some technical training for the majority of the troops. We appreciate your understanding with the restriction on travel, but we hope to make up for it during the holiday season.

On the last newsletter, we welcomed our six new additions and their families to the C Troop family. I am truly honored to meet some of you during our plaque ceremony held at Carolina Lakes last July. We bid farewell to Amon Georgewill and Brandon Krueger and their families as they move on and continue to serve our nation in a different capacity. Also this past few months, we bid farewell to other great C Troopers. Justin Oshiro as he moves on to another assignment and Derek Ridenour and Matthew Henderson moving to the Network Support Squadron to continue their service to this organization. I can't be thankful enough to all of you and your selfless service to the Troop and this organization.

I'd be remiss if I did not highlight the great accomplishments by our service members. Congratulations to Amon Georgewill for his commissioning through the LDO program, Matt Roper for his promotion to Gunnery Sergeant, Nick Cordier and Matt Henderson for their promotion to Chief Petty Officer and Mark Martinez for his selection to Technical Sergeant. I would also like to highlight Jason Besash, Andrew Devries and Jose Mercado for an awesome accomplishment by passing the Cisco Certified Network Professional exams as well as Mackenzie Smith, Mark Martinez, Norm Maldonado, and Jay Yoon for obtaining Cisco Certified Network Associate certification. Keep up the good work!

As we prepare for our upcoming travel, I once again ask you for your support in the upcoming months to allow us to best prepare for what's to come. With the holiday season in the middle of our training, there may be some late nights ahead to maximize the time allotted for holiday leave. For your planning, our upcoming block leave days will be from December 16, 2019 to January 6, 2020. As we finish this current cycle, please enjoy the upcoming holiday and let me be the first to greet our C Troop family a Happy Thanksgiving. We are planning to have a big family get together again to continue our strong family bond. I hope to see everyone there!

In closing, I continue to be impressed with the hard work and dedication of everyone in the troop. We have some of the smartest up and coming minds in the unit. The effort that the troop puts forward is without equal and has impacts that are beyond everyone's recognition. To the families, thanks again for all of your support, as well as your continued support in the future. I will continue to honor your contributions by providing the maximum support from the leadership of this troop the Joint Communications Unit.

As always, if you need anything, do not hesitate to call me. My number is 910-243-0115 and my personal cellphone is 915-996-5007.

V/R,

MSG Dwayne Camacho

D Troop

Hello JCU friends and family,

D Troop has been very busy training and prepping for our upcoming winter cycle. Thank you to all the families for your support and patience. Hopefully things will start to slow down and everyone will be able to enjoy the holiday season. Sadly, we said bye to two D Troop members. Tim Hughes and Vincent Mankowski have moved on to bigger and better things. We wish them the best and know they will make big impacts within the unit. As we lose those valued teammates we also gained a few. Larry Brown, Eugene Rogers, and Will O'Leary have joined the D Troop ranks.

Larry is coming from B Troop and is taking over a Detachment Chief position. Eugene and Will are brand spanking new to the unit, but have managed to integrate well with the team. We also had a new birth in the Troop. Joshua and Lori Tuthill are the proud parents of Delaney Nicole, born on 27 September. I am proud of all the hard work the D Troopers have put in this cycle and truly appreciate all the families for holding down the fort while we are away doing our job.

Special Mission Troop

Special Mission Troop Families, as always you're significant others have been continuously answering the call and getting after it. Over the past few months we have continued our Military Free Fall training events, and individual Detachment training events.

We conducted another tri-annual Troop Assessment and Selection and are proud to welcome our newest members, Thomas Williams, his wife Jennifer and their two kids Gavin and Matthew. Mitch Ford and his wife Sherri. You and your family have made a huge commitment to the Joint Communications Unit and we can't say enough about how grateful we are to have you be a part of the Special Mission Troop team! Please feel free to contact my wife, Caramy Taylor or myself at any time.

SMT would like to welcome home Brandon Hanks! Brandon spent a full year downrange supporting the mission. A huge thank you to his wife Shawna for the Sacrifices you made as well as the support you continue to provide Brandon. As we all know Brandon does not slow down, he immediately came home, attended SLC and graduated as the Iron Sergeant achieving the highest PT score in his class.

SMT has had quite a few folks promoted or make the promotion list. Nate Bryant and Tony Tricarico both made the Army E8 List, Chris Gonzales and Chris Williams made the army E7 list, and James Williams was selected for Chief Petty Officer in the Navy. We are extremely proud of these individuals. Each and every one of them are extremely deserving and put in the work day in and day out proving that the Military got its promotions right these last few months.

ECS Headquarters

ECS Families,

We are glad to be writing this when it isn't 100 degrees outside...the fall weather is finally upon us! Despite the brutal summer temperatures, the Squadron has not slowed down. We are anxiously awaiting the return of one of our Troops, and wish the best to those about to replace them. Over the past quarter, we the Troops have crushed it, and we could not be more proud of them. We sent a few people out on unexpected deployments all over the globe, and in every case they excelled. In fact, they did so well, multiple general officers commented to the Commanding General that our communicators are having strategic levels of mission impact based on our unparalleled support. It is a privilege for us to work alongside your loved ones.

As for the Headquarters Team, we welcomed back home Stephanie Burton, and are excited for her jump school graduation next month! We also sent Charlie Hulse to work with some mission partners overseas in the United Kingdom. Lastly, Jim McKnight keeps holding the fort down, keeping us out of trouble, and ensuring that all the training for the Troops gets laid on. He also took time out to run the JSOC Shooting Competition.

But most importantly, "The Best Squadron's" FFG is still swinging for the fences. There have been multiple Troop level events, 3 POTFF events, and many Unit level functions. The next few months bring with it many opportunities for family and friends gathering...please make the most of the time as we all know the busy life your Service Member and your Family has. We are looking forward to seeing as many of you as possible at the JCU Anniversary Party on December 6th; it is near Sanford, and there are hotels within a couple miles of the venue. It should be a good time. Please reach out to Bryant's wife, Niki, with any Squadron events you would like to see scheduled in the coming months.

Thanks, and looking forward to building a stronger family!

Cyber Troop

Good day from the Troop of Cyber! We have experienced a wide array of changes and interesting events. They ranged from an Admiral visit, to multiple additions to our family, and a couple members we said goodbye to as they journeyed to their next phase of life.

We were excited to host the JOSC Assistant Commander for the Navy, RDML Bradley to visit JCU and relished the opportunity for our people to interact with him and share what we do! Of note, SSgt Michael Blanton, TSgt Adam Maynard, and GySgt Nicholas Troyer really excelled in sharing their wealth of knowledge – they are examples of superb technicians and leaders which represented JCU admirably.

Additionally, we welcome three new additions to our JCU family! TSgt Scott Carpenter recently on-boarded with us and we are excited for him to share his wealth of knowledge and experience with Cyber Troop and the broader JCU. Additionally, Jonathan Jackson Lucas (born 17 September 2019) and Emmitt

Steele Rankin (born 12 September 2019) have joined our ranks as the youngest members of the Cyber Troop family. We are happy with our latest members!

And finally, the bittersweet goodbyes. We recently saw SFC Brian Cochran end his action packed JCU time (where he started in the line troops before finally ending up in Cyber Troop). He was recently picked up and on-boarded to JSOC J6, so thankfully not far, but his expertise and commitment to the mission will be missed. SSgt Alexander Dodd also recently left Cyber Troop where he was a direct hire whose impact to JCU has definitely been felt. He is currently separating, but has future plans which include a quick stint at Disney World with his family and then one final move to Colorado or Montana.

All in all, a great and exciting quarter with a bright, exciting, action packed future ahead of us! v/r - Katie McKinney, Cyber Troop CDR

Logistics Troop

#TeamLogistics

JCU Logistics is consistently working around the clock to innovate logistic processes in and outside the JSOC enterprise. We have chaired multiple working groups with USSOCOM entities, JSOC, and subordinate Units to synchronize our best practices, applications, and systems. This would ultimately streamline the acquisition, procurement, shipping, receiving, material accountability, and budgeting processes for all.

Mrs. Jeanice Wehner won JCU Civilian Member of the Year! For her leadership in the organization and her unwavering commitment to the Logistics team and JSOC missions. In addition the team earned 'excellent ratings' on their 2019 USSOCOM Government Purchase Card Program and Financial Improvement and Audit Readiness inspections.

We would like Congratulate Maston Buchanan on his selection and promotion to Chief Petty Officer, Erik Deason and Max Beerbaum on their selection to SSgt's as well. We are extremely proud and excited for your career progression and the leadership you all will continue to bring to our team. Oh and for the record Maston... Edwin became a Chief before you!

Erik Deason welcome back home after a very successful deployment, better get ready for those long runs on Longstreet! Morgan Carlson your team stands ready in the rear to help you support the forward missions. You can count on us no matter what challenges you face during your first deployment.

Lastly we would like to thank Bryant Phan and Erik Deason for their selfless contributions to the JSOC First Six Council. Their sustained superior performance garnered them selections as President and Vice President of the executive council.

Electronic Maintenance Troop

Fall has finally arrived in North Carolina, and we're looking forward to the cooler temperatures as we continue to get after it every day. We'll hoping to kick back a bit more and open the bay doors now that we've dipped below the triple digits. A couple of our folks got to enjoy those triple digits out in the Midwestern United States this summer testing out some new technologies. These opportunities and more are what continue to make the JCU such a valuable assignment for our Service members.

EMS bids farewell to Mario Forte this cycle, as he leaves us to continue his assignment with C-Troop. We thank Mario for all of his contributions and colorful personality, and know that he'll continue to do great things over there. We welcome ET1 Alvaro Estrada coming over from C-Troop, and we're glad to be able to help him continue to accelerate his career by honing his technician skills.

Additionally, EMS welcomes back alumni Jonathan Mast, who rejoins the unit in his capacity as one of our top SHF technicians.

Juan and Andrew are both on their way home after a successful deployment. They've laid the foundation for Matt and Andrey to continue improving the foxhole as they head out for their rotation. We wish them luck, and are ready to support anything they may need during the coming months.

As we approach the holiday season, our team is looking forward to some well-deserved time off. We're looking forward to hosting a couple of in-house morale events and enjoying the success of our labors over the summer. We know well that it will be all too soon before the workload begins to ramp up again, so enjoy the time off with your families while it's here.

V/R – Patrick "Bessy" Bessasparis, EMS SEL

Motor Maintenance Shop

Hello from the Motor Maintenance Support Troop. A few things that have been happening in our world: Bryan recently deployed and has hit the ground running identifying repairs that need to be made and getting them fixed within the first week of getting on site. Ryan and I were able to provide line haul support to Tennessee and back. Ryan R., Ryan N., and Andy conducted a fabrication class with 724th. Cabel conducted our annual environmental inspection and passed with flying colors. Ryan Rente assisted SOC-OTC to conduct their 1st ROHVA (Recreational Off-Highway Vehicle Association) training class and certified 4 unit members. We did have a couple of promotions Cabel McKinley promoted to SFC in July and Ryan Nifong promoted to SSG on 1 Oct.

It was good to see those who were able to make it to the BBQ at Ryan's house and get a little bit of Jenga time, apparently not a good idea to play against our kids. We also had a good time boating/tubing at Jordan Lake hopefully next year we can get all of the families out there.

v/r – Joshua Livingston, Motor Maintenance Support Troop.

NOSS

Welcome to North Carolina Autumn where you'll be in shorts one day and in a sweater the next. Our last newsletter was in June and there has been a lot of heavy lifting and work being done from everybody in the NOSS. I would like to take this opportunity to Hail and Farewell some of our teammates. Since the last newsletter the NOSS has said farewell and following seas to Brian Tsircou, Jeremy Erickson, Angel Periera, Brandon Voytek, and Jason Loy. We have also gratefully received Dave Knutzen, Joe Ellis, Kyle Marshall, Derek Ridenour, Matt Henderson, Anthony Oneha, Derek Howard, and John Partee. They came in at just the right time and have been fully engaged in their new positions. I welcome you and your families to the NOSS team and look forward to building bonds and taking JCU to the next level from an IT perspective.

Other notable mentions and congratulations go out to Matt Henderson for his successful graduation from the Basic Airborne Course, Chuck Russell for knocking out his Senior Enlisted Professional Military Education, Derek Howard for successfully completing his Warrant Officer Advanced Course, Joe Ellis for becoming one of the Army's newest Warrant Officers, Mike Garner for his very well deserved promotion to CW4, and to Matt Henderson and Vic Morquecho for their rightfully earned promotion to Chief Petty Officer. We welcome home Mike Pichette, Jeff Stevenson, and Brandon Lungren after a successful deployment and were glad to have you home. Sean Deveci, Nikki Bird, Keith Johnson, and Shane Copenhagen now have the Con, literally. Good luck and we know you will continue our legacy of success and professionalism, down range. We look forward to upcoming holiday season, please take every advantage you can to spend time with your loved ones and enjoy the holidays. We hope to see you all at the JCU Ball. The Commander and I cannot express the pride, gratitude, and recognition deserved by all the members of the team for everything they do on a daily basis. So in true JCU fashion all I want to say is Thank you.

~SGM Jon Woosley

SOSIT

Greetings from SOSIT. Fall is finally upon us, and I wonder how long it will last. Will next week be summer again, or are we going to go straight to winter? It's hard to tell in good ole North Carolina. SOSIT is busy as usual with SOCOTC class 2-19 is in full swing with all 21 service members rowing hard towards graduation. The class is over half way complete with the culmination exercise right around the corner. Thus far the class has mastered all their written and practical work in networking, radio frequency, and super-high frequency areas of expertise. Our instructor cadre has done a phenomenal job continuing to develop and delivering the curriculum.

As many of you know, SOSIT is comprised of two entities,

SOCOTC, our training course that develops JCU's newest service members into DoD's Finest Communicators, and the IT Academy, which is comprised of our advanced curriculum delivered to unit members wishing to broaden their knowledge in specific technical areas. The IT academy just finished up its third iteration of course delivery covering advanced networking, advanced systems administration, and data center installation and management. Two of our highly respected and talented instructors in the IT academy accomplished the tremendous task of redesigning their courses from the weeks long blocks of instruction many unit members endured, down to smaller one and two week chunks. IT Academy instructors Justin Day and Tim Gibson were given a very tough task, and delivered their courses to the organization with rave reviews. Hats off to them for their expertise and dedication to the mission. IT Academy instructor Joe Silvernail, our Data Center instructor, well... he done good too.

We are all looking forward to the holiday season, and the reception of our newest members in the organization as SOCOTC class 1-20 begins to build over the next few months. It is about time to say out with the old and in with the new. Time seems to speed up between now and the New Year, so everybody remember to take a breath, enjoy your families and friends, and be thankful for what you have and are able to give.

Lastly, it would not be right to close without a farewell. I would like to extend a very gracious thank you and farewell to Mr. Scott Eveler. Scott recently departed SOSIT after nearly four years of outstanding service in SOSIT as an instructor. Scott and his family are returning return to his home town in Missouri. We wish Scott and his family a smooth transition and the brightest future.

Relationship Challenge

In June your behavioral health team was pleased to offer a Couples Connection class. Two of the topics addressed were (1) knowing your partner and (2) dating your partner. We all know that life gets chaotic, whether it is work schedules, children, or life in general we get busy and forget to focus on/spend time with our partners. It does not matter if you have been together for 2 weeks or 20 years, we need to continue to know and date our partners.

Below are resources that can help with that.

1. The first is the love nudge app which allows you and your partner to take The Five Love Languages test and then gives you suggestions and reminders on how to connect with your partner to meet their love language.
2. The second is a texting program that sends you and your partner a question every day for 21 days to continue to get to know each other and remind you why you chose them in the first place. <https://love.resilienceboost.com/login>
3. Lastly, we challenge you to a date challenge to test your creativity in planning dates for each other so you can reconnect and spend time together.
 - a. $30 date night challenge:
 - Minimum of 2 hours
 - At least 1 time a month
 - Alternate who plans each month
 - Phones on silent if they have to be with you
 - Must include food
 - Must include an activity
 - The whole date must cost less than $30
 - Anything that you already have doesn't count towards the $30
 - b. Lost on where to start with your date planning? There are a variety of ideas online ranging from "outside the box stay at home dates" to "date ideas from A to Z."

We plan to offer the class again in the future so be on the lookout. In the meantime, if you need more tips and tricks on connecting with your partner please contact your JSOC BH team at 243-7502.

FFG Unit Advisors

Greetings JCU Spouses, We've had a busy and fun past couple of months with lunches, the JCU picnic, fire and ice, a brewery outing, Oktoberfest, and a craft night. We would love to see more faces and we welcome everyone to come out and meet others. We completely understand the busy schedules with kids, sports, activities, etc., but... no one can relate to your struggle better than someone else going through the same thing. Friends and support are an amazing life. Or maybe you just need a fun night out! We have several upcoming events to include; JSO 10k, JCU Spouses Tea, Ball and holiday parties for the kiddos to name a few. We would love to see y'all! If you have any ideas for an event, please reach out to Joanne or myself and we'd be happy to arrange it. And if you need anything else, we're always available and happy to help. We will have an auction on items at the Ball on Dec. 6 so bring your checkbook and be ready! We have some amazing items and all proceeds will go to future events for the FFG. We're really excited!

Thanks, Ashley and Joanne

Chaplain's Corner

CHAPLAIN'S CORNER – OCTOBER 2019

During my daily bible reading not long ago, I came across an interesting aspect of Paul's ministry. In a letter to the Galatians, Paul was recounting his two trips to Jerusalem. Both trips were in order to get some feedback and direction from the apostles. In Galatians 2 Paul says he met with James, Cephas (Peter) and John. Back then they were the "big dogs" of the Christian movement and the authority when it came to any disputes. To have their blessing and approval meant you were on the right track. Paul was preaching the gospel to the non-Jews, called Gentiles, while most everyone else focused on the Jews. When the "big dogs" heard the success Paul was having they were thrilled and agreed it was a good thing. They basically said "Drive on Paul! You're doing great things out there! Keep up the good work." "Only they asked us to remember the poor, the very thing I was eager to do" (Galatians 2:10 ESV).

I first passed him on the way to grab lunch. He was standing outside the Food Lion finishing a bag of chips. I recall thinking he looked fairly healthy, but his clothes were ragged. He wore a black t-shirt, black jeans ripped into shorts at the knees and a ratty pair of black shoes. We barely made eye contact as I walked by.

At the fast food place I ordered lunch to-go, planning to walk it back to where my friend worked so we could eat lunch together. The trip back took me right in front of the same Food Lion. There he was. Chips finished, he was simply standing on the curb looking into the parking lot. We made eye contact as I walked by. His eyes scanned the bags of lunch. As I passed him he said something I didn't understand. I paused. "What's that?", I said.

Then in a thick hispanic accent he repeated, "Can you give me a dollar?"

"No thanks," I said. "I don't have one."

It was a lie. I did have a dollar.

I never saw the guy again.

We are moving into the holiday season. No doubt there will be lots to do. Starting with Halloween at the end of the month, through Thanksgiving a month later and the grande finale of every calendar year, Christmas. Charles Dickens calls it "a time when want is keenly felt and abundance rejoices."

My encouragement is that we all follow the advice of the "big dogs" to Paul and remember the poor. Consider those who have less. Remember that not everyone is as blessed. Not everyone enjoys three meals a day. Not everyone has a neighborhood in which to trick-or-treat, or a table filled with turkey and dressing, or an ornament-filled tree with presents. There are always those people, often on the margins of society for whom the next few months are painfully difficult. Men, women and children... living among us... who are struggling. They may need your help. A few may ask.

Most will not.

In the mean time, I'll be checking the Food Lion nearby looking for a guy dressed in ragged clothes who once asked for my help.

JCU Behavioral Health

Behavioral Health would like to introduce the newest addition to our team, Ms. Katie Connelly. Katie is dedicated to supporting the dependents of JSOC to include JCU. She is coming to us from Colorado and sits at the annex 4 days a week to provide easy access to our dependents. We are excited to announce that Katie can also see children (7 years and older).

In addition to seeing Katie, the annex is a great place to stop in and have a cup coffee, meet with other spouses and access great resources (books on a variety of topics to include: self-care, relationships, and parenting topics).

The Special Operations Communicators Association (SOCA) continues to do great things for the service members and families of JCU. The winners for our annual education essay contests were awarded, great job and we look forward to next year. We sponsored an offshore charter fishing trip for six of our single service members. They had a great time aboard the Fin Chaser with Captain Keith Smith out of Atlantic Beach, NC. We are sitting around 300 registrations for the 23rd Annual Joint Special Operations 10K, please get your registrations in sooner rather than later. We look forward to this year's anniversary ball, make sure to get your RSVP's into 1SG Corley soon. We just had another iteration of memorial paver engraving completed, our next cut should be around May of next year. Thank you all for all you do and thanks as well to the families that support them.

JCU events like the Pre-Deployment Briefings, SOROC Spouses Brief, Key Caller “commo check” (telephone tree line checks), JCU Picnic, JCU Anniversary Ball, etc, are regular, recurring command-directed duty calls. JCU and JSOC FFG social events and special interest groups are optional. JCU requires that all members and spouses attend JSOC 101 (for active duty) and JSOC Spouse Orientation and Security Briefings (for spouses). For more information on any JSOC events, please contact the JCU FFG Advisors or your Key Caller (see current JCU phone roster). For more information on any JSOC events, which fall under JSOC HHBN, please contact JSOC Family Programs at 243-7501. JSOC is JCU’s higher “umbrella organization” and hence their Family Programs office and HHBN’s FFG offers more activities than JCU’s FFG does (and there’s no need to duplicate efforts when JCU Families, along with all JSOC subordinate unit Families, are invited to participate in all of them). However, JCU still maintains its own FFG to distribute JCU-centric information to all JCU Troops and Families and to encourage camaraderie among them.
